WORLD SORROW.

Americans who revere the memory of Lincoln, of Garfield, of McKinley, sympathize with the people of Portugal in their grief. The Portuguese Government is different from ours, but the people have the same ills and the same woes that we have in America. King Carlos was dethroned by a tyrant by the name of the anarchy and the people sought his death. Lincoln was called a tyrant in America. Garfield was the victim of an insane agitator, so was McKinley, yet all Americans honor and revere the names of these fallen heroes. Undoubtedly there is a festering sore in the body politic in Portugal and it can be cut out. It ought to be, and will be cut out, but assassination is no way in which to go about it. We in Kentucky know that. Assassins shot down a Governor of this State ten years ago. They were backed by people who professed to believe they were aiding the Commonwealth, but during the past ten years we have had nothing but commotion and disorder.

"Pray for your country," said the Pope to the Portuguese seminarians Sunday. It was an admonition to the rest of us to pray for universal peace.

THE BULLITT GERRYMANDER.

That faction of the Republican party headed by Attorney W. Marshall Bullitt is seeking to redistrict the city into wards so that the Republicans may perpetuate themselves in power. Instead of allowing the boundaries to extend from north to south, as at present, Mr. Bullitt and his fellow conspirators against Democracy want to gerrymander the city for their own purposes. As a matter of fact the city needs redistricting. At present the wards are not equitably divided, but fortunately Louisville's streets have been so laid out that a just and equitable distribution of the population can be arrived at by continuing the ward boundaries from north to south, simply by extending the several boundaries westward a few blocks. Mr. Bullitt's measure is intended to provide for negro domination in certain wards. That the people of Kentucky will not stand.

Fortunately the Bullitt scheme has met opposition in the Republican ranks. Isadore Forst, President of the lower board of the General Council, and formerly an ally of Mr. Bullitt, is outspoken in his opposition to the measure. He declares that the proposed ordinance is a gerrymander of the worst sort and that even if adopted by the General Council it will not be held valid in court. Mr. Forst says in the same connection: "The present administration pledged itself to give the people a fair deal, and I am in favor of living up to our pledge."

Perhaps Mr. Forst will be able to keep sufficient members of the Council on his side to defeat the measure, but Mr. Bullitt has a way of winning Councilmen to do his bidding, even if their relatives have to be placed in office. Whether the ordinance is passed or rejected, the people will test its validity in the courts, where it will be undoubtedly declared invalid.

M. Aristide Briand, the new Minister of Justice and Worship in France, wants binding marriages done away with. He desires instead that bride and groom should give each other a specific trial, then if they fail to suit each other let them separate. Monsieur Briand merely means that a bride should be sent to her husband on approval. Of course such a thing is horrible to contemplate, but it is much worse than the custom of consecutive polygamy that obtains in the United States, where anybody that can pay the price can secure a divorce and marry some one else? The French Minister comes out in the open; in America the hand that cuts the nuptial knot seeks concealment under the guise of liberty.

The present members of the General Council who compose the Joint Police Committee are considering favorably an ordinance reducing the salaries of the Night Chief of Police and Captains. That would smack of economy. On the other hand the same wise solons are considering a measure that will create at least one new Captain and several more Lieutenants and Sergeants. In other words they want to rob Peter to pay Paul and create places for hungry Republican workers.

The Legislature of New York has passed an act, known as the Wagner bill, which makes it a crime to sell securities on a margin. In other words, the bill proposes to stop stock gambling in New York. Both the press and pulpit denounce the evil of stock gambling as the crying crime of the day. The new bill is backed by Thomas M. Mulry, head of the St. Vincent de Paul Society in the United States and President of the Emigrants' Industrial Savings Bank, of New York City; by President Roosevelt, by Father Chidwick, former Chaplain of the ill-fated battleship Maine, and by the leading ministers of dissenting faiths.

Some of the very same people who, to use a slang expression, tore their shirts for Grinstead and his party last November, are now making indignant remarks because both the Catholic clergy and laity are being treated with discourtesy at city and county institutions, notably the jail and the almshouse. As a twentieth century philosopher remarked: "Children don't come home to roost until after they have laid their eggs in somebody else's barn."

American corporations are very slow in adopting any new device for the saving of life. According to the American theory time is money, but life counts for nothing. This has led W. G. Fitzgerald, a well known inventor, to remark: "If I produce a device to save time I can sell it readily in twenty places, but if I offer an idea for saving life I can not dispose of it at all."

Chief Hager must be put to great straits to make arrests when he disguises his men as singers and sends them to incite trade at a bar-room only to lock up the bartender and his patrons for violating the Sunday law. Somewhere in law you may read that there is such a thing as an accessory before the fact.

CARE IS NEEDED.

Promiscuous Resort to Intimacy Decried by President.

Unfair uses of injunctions in labor matters and otherwise, came up for a fair share of denunciation by President Roosevelt in his message to Congress on January 31. He said in part:

It is wrong to use the injunction to prevent the exercise of proper and legitimate actions of labor organizations in their struggle for industrial betterment, or under the guise of protecting property rights unlawfully to invade the fundamental rights of the individual. It is futile to concede, as we all do, the right and the necessity of organized effort on the part of wage-earners and yet by injunctive process to forbid peaceable action to accomplish the lawful objects for which they are organized and upon which their success depends. The fact that the punishment for the violation of an injunction must, to make the order effective, necessarily be summary and without the intervention of a jury, makes its issuance in doubtful cases a dangerous practice, and in itself furnishes a reason why the process should be surrounded with safeguards to protect individuals against being enjoined from exercising their proper rights. Reasonable notice should be given the adverse party.

This matter is daily becoming of graver importance, and I can not too urgently recommend that the Congress give careful consideration to the subject. If some way of remedying the abuses is not found the feeling of indignation against them among large numbers of our citizens will tend to grow so extreme as to produce a revolt against the whole use of the process of injunction. The ultra-conservatives who object to the use of the process will do well to remember that if the popular feeling does become strong many of those upon whom they rely to defend them will be the first to turn against them. Men of property can not afford to trust to anything save the spirit of justice and fair play; for those very public men who, while it is to their interest, defend all the abuses committed by capital and pose as the champions of conservatism, will, the moment they think their interest changes, take the lead in just such a matter as this and pander to what they esteem popular feeling by endeavoring, for instance, effectively to destroy the power of the courts in matters of injunction; and will even seek to render nugatory the power to punish for contempt, upon which power the very existence of the orderly administration of justice depends.

IMPORTANT MEETING.

Next Friday night an important meeting of Division 1, Ancient Order of Hibernians, will be held, and President Mulloy is anxious for a full attendance on account of the momentous questions that are to be discussed. One matter of note that will come up is the observance of St. Patrick's day. The members will also be called upon to discuss a plan of assessment for the Marching Club that is to represent Louisville at the national convention of Hibernians next summer. Another matter, out of the ordinary, will be the discussion of arranging for the reception and entertainment of delegates to the State convention to be held in Louisville during the coming autumn.

SOCIETY.

Jerry O'Connell is quite ill of the grip at his home in Oakdale.

Erie Carrio has returned from a visit to his mother, Mrs. J. E. Carrio, at New Haven.

Miss Flora Edelen has returned to her home at Lebanon, after a short visit with relatives in this city.

Miss Geneva Ford has returned from a visit to her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Ford, at Jefferson-town.

Mrs. J. K. Daugherty, formerly of New Haven, has joined her husband here, and they will make this city their future home.

John Thornbury and wife spent last week visiting the family of Joseph Thornbury and other relatives at New Haven and in Nelson county.

Mrs. Jack Krahenbuhl, one of the handsomest and most popular young matrons of Birmingham, Ala., is visiting relatives in Louisville and New Albany.

Mrs. Mary Rose Bowling, who has been visiting friends at New Haven, was delightfully entertained at a supper given in her honor by Miss Mary Boone.

Mrs. William Patterson has recovered from her recent indisposition and is spending a few weeks with her sister, Mrs. Pauline Raily, at 2538 West Main street.

Members of the Good Will Social Club will be the guests of Miss Agnes Nevils at her home, 2022 West Market street, next Thursday night, and will be entertained at euchre.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Smith have returned from their bridal tour and are at home to their friends at 818 Twenty-fifth street. Mrs. Smith was formerly Miss Josephine Uhl.

This afternoon Mrs. George Collier, of Parkland, will give a miscellaneous shower in honor of her sister, Miss Mary Lou Noland, who will on February 19 become Mrs. Frank Brohm.

George P. Lawless is very proud of a splendid thirteen-pound boy that arrived at his home, 1632 Twenty-third street, on Wednesday. Both the mother and child are progressing nicely.

John T. Shelley and Firman Bosche, prominent members of Mackin County, Y. M. I., and who were quite a few times, have recovered and are able to be out, much to the delight of their friends.

William Colgan and bride, who have been in New York on their wedding trip for several weeks, arrived home Tuesday and are with Mrs. Colgan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Telford, Crescent Hill.

Thomas Burkholder, for years a member of Mackin County, Y. M. I., now representing a big firm in Chicago, spent several days in Louisville last week, and on Monday left for Cincinnati and a tour of the East.

The Good Will Social Club will give one of its social dances at Schreiber's Hall, Twenty-sixth and Bank streets, on the evening of February 28. It is hardly necessary to add that all who attend are assured a good time.

Thomas Coly and his charming wife celebrate the tenth anniversary of their marriage on Saturday, February 15, at their home, 2629 West Jefferson street. The happy couple will be the recipients of hearty congratulations from a wide circle of relatives and admiring friends.

John W. Gray, the successful brick contractor, and his estimable wife, of West Chestnut street, left Sunday to visit in Lexington, Richmond and Pendleton county, and at each place they are receiving much marked social attention. They will return home the latter part of next week.

Miss Margaret Norton has returned from Pittsburgh, where she spent the past six weeks as the guest of Miss Frances Hawley. During her sojourn in the Smoky City Miss Norton was the guest of honor at a number of receptions and functions and received many other social attentions.

A wedding that will attract more than an ordinary share of attention will be that of Miss Corinne Leverone and Ernest Brockman. It will be solemnized February 19. Both young people are quite prominent in society circles. The bride-to-be is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Leverone.

The Good Will Social Club was entertained Thursday evening of last week by Miss Anna, of the young prize winners were Misses Mary Ellen Cummin, Irene Nicoulin, Anna Doyle and Messrs. Will Baldwin, Albert Musselman and Thomas Gilligan. Miss Agnes Nevils will entertain the club next Thursday.

Thomas Burkholder, formerly of this city but now having headquarters in Chicago, who was here for a short visit to his aged parents, left Sunday for an extended business trip to Baltimore, New York and the Eastern States. Mr. Burkholder is with the Baker-Vawter Company, who do a bank accounting business all over the United States.

The many friends of Henry Pasick, the well known real estate dealer, are glad to see him out again this week, after a threatened illness of pneumonia that confined him to his home for several days. His legion of friends throughout the city were greatly alarmed when they learned that he was seriously ill at his residence on Brook street, and they will therefore be much pleased to know that his condition has changed for the better and his entire recovery is looked for within the next few days.

Mrs. Mary McGrath was tendered a surprise party at her home, 1417 Seventh street Thursday evening and after a game of euchre a delightful Dutch supper was served. Among those present were Mrs. J. J. Ross, Misses Hettie and Annie Howard, Nellie Kerr, Lizzie Walsh, Nannie Broderick, Mrs. B. Ross, Annie Ross; Messrs. H. O'Connell, G. W. Brenner, C. Howard, D. Holmes, C. Doyle, S. Doyle, G. Harrison, J.

O'Neill; Messrs. and Mesdames John Greeley and Charles McCarthy, and Masters Joe and Willie Kelly.

Miss Eva Raily was tendered a surprise euchre at her home, 2538 West Main street, Monday night. The prize winners were Louis J. Kieffer and William Perry, while Dr. E. K. Cook carried off the consolation prize. Among the ladies Mrs. Charles Rieger and Miss Cleo Charlton won the first and second prizes, while the consolation prize was won by Miss Graff. After the euchre refreshments were served in parlors beautifully decorated in pink and white. The guests entered the parlors to the strains of a march played by Prof. Vincent Falisi and, while regaling themselves, wished Miss Raily many happy returns of the day. Among the guests present were William Perry, Joseph L. Lenihan, John J. Crotty, J. Mill J. Daly, Louis J. Kieffer, Dr. E. K. Cooke, Dr. Vincent Falisi, Attorney Austin Walsh, George Rieger, Jr., Charles Rieger, Charles S. Raily; Misses Cleo Charlton, Elizabeth Hawkins, Mary Rieger, Mary Tierney, Irene Bouchee, Ida B. Raily, Blanche Graff, Florence Daly; Mr. and Mrs. George Ulrich, George Rieger, Mrs. William Patterson, Mrs. Charles Rieger and Mrs. Pauline Raily, mother of the hostess.

FAMILY MOURNS.

Popular Bank Clerk Lost Mother and Mother-in-Law.

The family of Anthony Ramser, bookkeeper at the Bank of Commerce, was doubly bereft this week in the loss of his mother and mother-in-law. Notice of Mrs. Ramser's death is given elsewhere in these columns. Mrs. Caroline Baker, his mother-in-law, was sixty-five years old and was the widow of John Baker, a veteran of the Union army and for years a well known letter carrier. Her death occurred Tuesday night and her funeral took place from St. Charles Borromeo's church Friday morning. For many years she had resided at 2722 West Chestnut street, and was a devout Catholic.

Four children survive her, Mesdames Ben Graft and Anthony Ramser, Miss Stella Baker, Oscar J. and Corp. Harry Baker, of the Louisville police force. The deaths of Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Ramser on the same day recalls the coincidence of the death of their respective husbands on the same day eighteen months ago. Mrs. Baker was held in high esteem and her funeral was attended by a large circle of friends who knew her worth.

CATHOLICS INCREASING.

Figures from the latest census of St. Louis shows that it has a population of 700,000. Of these 350,000 are Catholics. Certainly Catholicism must be on the up grade in America, and particularly in the West.

GRAND DIRECTORS TO MEET.

The Board of Grand Directors of the Young Men's Institute will meet at Mackin club house tomorrow afternoon, and the principal matters to be discussed are the date and place of meeting for the Grand Council of the Kentucky jurisdiction. Frank G. Adams, Chairman of the Board of Grand Directors, has invited Grand President La Vega Clements, of Owensboro, to attend the meeting.

SELECT EUCHRE.

Unless all signs fail the euchre to be given for the benefit of St. Leo's school, at Liederkranz Hall, Sixth and Walnut streets, Wednesday afternoon and evening, February 17, will be a distinct success. Rev. Father Fitzgerald, pastor of St. Leo's, is anxious to make his parochial school second to none in this diocese, and his parishioners in Highland Park are lending every effort to aid him in the good work.

PARTICULAR COUNCIL.

Rev. Father Patrick Walsh has called a meeting of the Particular Council of the St. Vincent de Paul Society to be held at Sacred Heart school hall, Seventeenth and Broadway, at 8 o'clock next Monday night. Rev. Father Walsh has been appointed Chaplain of the Particular Council by his Lordship, Bishop McCloskey. It is expected that matters of more than ordinary importance are to be discussed during the evening.

HALLINAN-LALLY.

Miss Florence Hallinan and Harry E. Lally will be united in the sacrament of matrimony at St. Cecilia's church Wednesday morning at 6 o'clock. A nuptial mass will follow the marriage ceremony. The bride party and their immediate relatives will be met at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Julia Hallinan, 2620 Bank street, after which the happy couple will enjoy a bridal tour of eight days. They expect to make their home with the bride's mother.

EXCELLENT WOMAN GONE.

The funeral of Mrs. Ellen McAndrews, who died Saturday night, took place from the Church of Our Lady in Portland on Tuesday morning. Mrs. McAndrews was sixty years old and is survived by her husband, Thomas McAndrews, and three children. Officers Tony McAndrews, Mrs. A. W. Foos and Mrs. S. J. Nalty. Death resulted from a severe case of grip. The deceased was born in Ireland but came to America when quite a young girl. She had lived many years in the West End and was held in high esteem by all who knew her.

HOPKINS TO REOPEN.

E. W. Dustin, of St. Louis, and one of the most talented purveyors of public amusements in the United States, made his advent to Louisville this week and comes to manage the Hopkins Theater for O. T. Crawford, proprietor of the Gaiety Theater of St. Louis, and of the Crawford Film Exchange, of the same city. Mr. Dustin proposes to open the Hopkins Theater next week with a first class moving picture show. The entertainment will continue each day from noon until 10:30 or 11 o'clock at night. The new manager hastened to make the acquaintance of as many Irish-Americans as possible after his arrival. He proposes to make Hopkins Theater a place of first class entertainment.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

Late News That Will Interest Members Here and Elsewhere.

At Indianapolis a large class will be initiated February 24. MacGibbon Council, at New Lexington, Ohio, initiated a class of sixty last Sunday.

Members of Pere Marquette Council at Milwaukee have organized a bowling league.

Cleveland Knights will give their first annual charity ball on the night of February 17.

Louisville Council will hold its annual reception at the Seelbach Hotel on the evening of March 2.

Jeffersonville will soon have its council, and then the order will have one in each of the Falls Cities.

All arrangements for the Fourth Degree Assembly at Denver on Washington's birthday have been made.

Early in each year the combined councils of Massachusetts donate $1,500 to the Catholic Charitable Bureau of Boston.

Bishop Carroll Council of Covington and the newly organized Newport council have combined for a joint initiation in the near future.

Indianapolis Council will confer the first degree on Monday, February 17, and the second and third one week later.

Right Rev. Bishop Keane and twenty-five priests attended the initiation of a class of sixty at Denver January 26. The banquet that followed was one of the swellest in the history of Denver.

South Dakota is coming to the front with two more councils. Marty Council at Yankton, in memory of the good and saintly Bishop Marty, will start with seventy-five charter members, and the one at Elkton will be nearly as large.

When the centennial celebration of the archdiocese takes place, Philadelphia Knights will give a banquet in the ball room of the Bellevue-Stratford to Archbishop Ryan and such of the hierarchy as may be his guests on that occasion.

Archbishop O'Connell warmly commends the Knights of Massachusetts for their generous donation of $1,500 to the Catholic Charitable Bureau of Boston. The work of this bureau is to safeguard children committed to State, municipal and private institutions.

Initiatory steps have been taken for the organization of a council at Muscatine, Iowa. Laurent Council will be the name for the new body, in honor of the late Rev. P. Laurent, the pioneer priest of Iowa, for more than fifty years pastor of St. Matthias church at Muscatine.

The charity ball held under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus at Madison Square Garden Monday night was a success. Not less than 15,000 Knights from the fifty-two councils in Greater New York, and their ladies, attended the ball. First choice box seats brought $200.

Chicago Knights have chartered a special train to New Orleans for the Mardi Gras festivities, and for their entertainment the Crescent City brethren have arranged banquets, dances and receptions, and have also provided for the Knights' balcony, from which the visitors will witness the parades.

THEATRICAL.

Rose Melville, who became famous as "Sis Hopkins," will appear at Masonic Theater next week in her old and favorite role. She will be supported by a strong company, and the engagement will prove one of the best of the season.

Mrs. Leslie Carter, one of the leading emotional actresses on the American stage, will appear at Macaulay's Theater in "Du Barry," a play that she has made famous, during the first half of next week. This is her third tour of the United States in "Du Barry" and Mrs. Carter appears to grow in favor every year. Marie Cahill's "Marrying Mary" will be the attraction at this theater during the latter half of the week. It is a
